A Message from the Vice President

It's midsummer, and as Lewis Carroll wrote, "The time has come...to talk of many things."

I love our Congregation. For the last many years, it has been not just my spiritual home but a source of comfort and belonging and, in a way, family. Not all of you come at Erev Shabbat when I'm usually there, but I may see you other times, at High Holy Days or around town and know we share this Congregation as well as Jewish life and heritage.

We are Congregation Beit Tikva. We're not Temple Beit Tikva or Synagogue Beit Tikva, although we have a beautiful Jewish space. We are Congregation Beit Tikva. The Congregation is, after all, us. The life and breath of our Congregation is us, too. Many of us pitch in, as Trustees or as volunteers in other ways. And we all provide the financial lifeblood that supports our Rabbi, Cantor, our programs, operations, and maintenance. It's us. WE do that. No one else (other than some small but very appreciated program grants from Federation).

Many of us—many of YOU—believe strongly enough in our Congregation to contribute donations well beyond our (inexpensive by most Temple standards) dues. Several of us have, each year, been premium dues donors at the Sustainer or Rabbi's Circle level. Some give to our High Holy Day appeal or make donations in memory or honor or just to a specific fund. Most of those donations are modest; a few are substantial. And many of us (including the current Board, and several individual members) have made extra donations to our Future Fund. Some of those Future Fund gifts (and some recent gifts to other funds) have been at the $10,000 level. Some are smaller but still quite significant relative to those donors' means. Their (our) giving expresses what we value.

Our Congregation provides much to those who want to partake of it. In addition to services, we have Torah study, adult-education programs, bring services to those in the Brookdale Senior Living community, and offer special programs and speakers. We will be the venue for some other (not yet announced) programs for the Jewish community this summer, too. And Cantor Ephraim will be singing for our High Holy Days services in September.

However, as we've told you this year in messages and letters from the Rabbi, we have significant financial challenges that we as Trustees of our Congregation need to address with you. Our dues only cover about 60% of this year's expenses (that's with the Rabbi at part-time again this year—it would have been an even smaller fraction of our costs if we had not made that change). Our typical fundraising, while vital and deeply appreciated, is not sufficient to make up the difference, so in the last few years we have had to spend reserve funds too. Since that was unsustainable, we also had to reduce our expenditures. In addition to shifting the Rabbi to reduced compensation and time, we have found ways to reduce or eliminate many administrative and operational costs. Our Cantor is back, but we gain from studying and delving into texts. Without insight from the Bible, without our capacity for spiritual growth, our continued learning would become shallow. Oil points to the energy and inspiration offered by God; the unlimited message filtered through holy words.

As we begin preparing for the opera season, summer travels, and other activities, the world of “realpolitik” keeps intruding on our daily world. We have witnessed momentous events along the Israeli-Gaza border, and once again the world blames Israel for protecting its citizens and its sovereignty. In the U.S. we are affected by the rising tide of anti-Semitic incidents, which the ADL reported as having increased by 57 percent in the previous calendar year. While we enjoy the safety of northern New Mexico, imagine living in the northern Galilee region, or Haifa, facing the Hezbollah rocket launch pads every day. We live in difficult times, and thus it is imperative that we come together, strengthen our congregation, and support Israel with our own personal words.

Summer is also a period for learning and engaging in spiritual activities. It is a season for the rest and nourishment of our souls. In Leviticus, Chapter 23, we read of the priest’s role in cleansing persons who have become unclean. The priests needed certain substances in order to pronounce a healing, whether for a patient with a serious disease, or a mother recovering from childbirth. The three basic elements for the healing process are oil, challah, and incense.

How do we understand these three elements in our modern world? The oil, challah, and incense signify the building blocks needed for a healthy spiritual life. Oil is the fuel for kindling a fire, and that energy yields light. The Talmudic sages referred to this light as the inspiration of Torah. Oil is a metaphor for the energy and inspiration

Of equal importance in this process is the challah, the bread used in the holy sanctuary, and the bread used on our daily tables. Challah means sustenance: it reminds us to care for our physical being and rejuvenate ourselves on a regular basis. Without bread we would not be able to absorb the teachings from the divine. With challah we possess the building blocks to strengthen our minds and our congregation.

Finally, every person requires incense. To the biblical writer, incense was offered as a purification, as a vehicle for the healing of a person. For ourselves, incense refers to prayers—our communication with the transcendent. Incense kindled in our sanctuaries rises slowly to the divine. Without bread, oil, and prayer, we could rarely approach the holy presence in our lives. We need all three elements to lead a spiritually directed life. Oil and challah are easy to remember but holding onto prayer is not so easy. Yet we need to embrace that incense, so that we lead ourselves from the mundane moments to periods of insight and encounter with the divine.

part-time now as well. The majority of our costs go to our Rabbi, Cantor, and Administrator. While we continue to make changes to reduce administrative costs, what more can be saved there is limited.

And our reserves are getting low; we can't draw on them as we had. We need to raise ourselves to a higher level of financial stability this year. If we do not, then by this time next year at the latest, or possibly even late in 2018, our Board will have to make some big changes in how we operate as a Congregation. The gap isn't insurmountable, and our Board members are doing a lot to close that gap—but the Board can't do it alone. We need additional giving from our Congregation now, to stop spending our last reserves, while we work to grow our membership and dues income over the next couple of years. You will see us not only asking for donations all year long and holding fundraisers later this year—we are also reaching out to many of you individually for your philanthropy (and help recruiting new members).

I hope that you value our Congregation as much as I do. If so, please think of that as one of the Board contacts you or when we make a general request for donations. And we would like to know what you feel about this. Please contact me (or, if you'd prefer, another Board member) to let us know, and to offer your questions or concerns.

—Phil Goldstone, Vice President

ADMINISTRATOR'S POINT OF VIEW

Yamim Noraim* The Days of Awe are all but upon us. Look for your High Holy Day ticket request packet during the 2nd week of August. It will include tickets that come with your membership, request for guest tickets and the Yizkor request form if you wish to add anyone to your list for inclusion in the memorial booklet distributed during Yom Kippur. Please plan on returning it to the temple no later than August 29th.

If you have pledged to the Future Fund and selected quarterly payments, your second quarter payment is due.

Lastly, I want to thank each and every one of you for the opportunity to have been your Administrator over the last two years. It has been an experience that I shall always cherish. By the time you read this bulletin you will have a new administrator and she will bring new and exciting things to Beit Tikva. I know that you will all be of great inspiration and assistance to her and will help her be a success in her new role.

SUMMER ADULT EDUCATION CLASSES

JULY—Entering the Garden of Jewish Mysticism taught by Dr. Petr Chylek

Beginning Wednesday, July 11th at 6:00pm

This class meets for 4 weeks in the Helman Library and concludes on Wednesday, August 1. The class is an introduction to mystical texts and the 16th century Kabbalah. Each class will include meditations. All members of the Santa Fe community are welcome to attend.

AUGUST—Dialogues on Self-Renewal and Destinations: Preparing for the Holy Days taught by Dr. John Graham

Beginning Wednesday, August 8th at 6:00pm

Our second summer class will be led by Dr. John Graham, noted educator and faculty member at UNM. The class meets for 4 weeks in the Helman Library. The series will include a weekly presentation by Dr. Graham, followed by respondents to his ideas, and a discussion of the topics. The class concludes on Wednesday, August 29, preparing us for the High Holy Days season. All interested students are welcome.

For more information regarding classes, please contact Rabbi Martin Levy.

Saturday morning Torah study meets every Saturday at 9:00am in the Helman Library. This is an ongoing study group and all are invited to attend.

HAVE YOUR CAKE AND EAT IT TOO!

CBT's annual Rosh Hashannah Honey Project is around the corner. You will be receiving an email the beginning of August with all of the particulars. If you are uncomfortable with the email process, please call Lois Podolny 505-467-8383. She will be happy to help you with your order. If you would like to make a generous contribution of $180 you will be sending good wishes and sweetness to every member of the congregation. As an extra thank you for this contribution you will receive a "homemade" honey cake in addition to the traditional jar of honey. If you don't want to participate at the $180 level, there is also the option of a $3 per person/family donation for your own personal list. All orders must be placed by September 1, 2018. We look forward to your participation in this sweet fund-raising project.—Lois and Gary Podolny

Remembering Those Who Have Gone Before

It is with tremendous pride that we are continuing a long honored Jewish tradition. With the financial support of an initial donation from Ruthie Koval, and a subsequent donation from Gary and Karen Goldstein we have determined that the time is right to include this traditional remembrance option in our synagogue offering to members.

To enable congregants to honor their loved ones with grace and reverence, we installed an illuminated memorial system in the entrance hall, which commemorates individual Yahrzeits with a bulb next to the individual's nameplate. If you have not yet reserved a space for your loved ones call the temple administrator at 505.820.2991 or email her at admin@beittikvasantafe.org, OR fill out the form included here and drop it in the mail.

Have You Been Getting Our Weekly E-blast?

Our weekly e-newsletter is the best way to stay current with all of our Congregation's happenings. Please contact Linda Krull nlkreasearch@comcast.net if you want to be added to the e-blast list. Or, go to www.beittikvasantafe.org and click on the blue button, top right. You'll never miss any upcoming events or news that is of interest to you.

Oneg Shabbat Means Sabbath Delight!

What could be more delightful after Friday evening service than some treats to enjoy with challah and the good company of friends (old and new). Members are expected to provide one oneg preparation per year. You may bring food or you may instead offer $65 to cover expenses.

Many thanks to Windy Dankoff (our notorious flute and clarinet player). Windy says we have some oneg openings for September through December (and beyond), so if you wish to sign up, please contact him at 505.490.0313 or windydankoff@mac.com. You will be receiving a form in the mail with details.
